

KELLY MCNELIS

Kelly McNelis is the CEO of Kelly McNelis, LLC, and the founder of Women For One, a global community that empowers women to embrace their voices and make life happen on their own terms. With more than 25 years of experience as a healing practitioner, speaker, coach, trainer, facilitator, and small-business consultant, Kelly empowers generations of women around the world to build the relationships, community, and confidence they need to achieve their wildest dreams.

More recently, Kelly has shifted her focus to the process of inner exploration and personal growth. In her healing services, Kelly is trained in various disciplines designed to assist you in tapping more deeply into your ability to create a balanced emotional, mental, physical, and spiritual life. She is an emotional clarity and life coach, a consultant, an Earth energy healer, a minister, and Reiki Master. Kelly is unique in her work because she partners with her clients to heal themselves and offers practical solutions to life's challenges. Her healing practice focuses on empowering her clients to take effective action and use processes that achieve extraordinary results. Currently, Kelly is obtaining her Master's degree in human rights at the University of London. She is passionate about supporting women throughout the world.

Kelly's dedication to truth-telling inspires people to share their powerful stories with the world. She is also a bestselling author whose first book, Your Messy Brilliance: 7 Tools for the Perfectly Imperfect Woman, was released in the Fall of 2017 by Enrealment Press.

For more information or to schedule a free consultation or healing session, contact Kelly at (206) 419-6534 or email her at kelly@kellymcnelis.com.

Kelly McNelis